Profile

Since launching in 2005, Probikeshop has rapidly become a benchmark for cycling on the Internet. With the initial objective of democratising MTB practice, the first challenge presented itself as responding to customer demand as quickly and efficiently as possible.

Probikeshop's reputation is still on the rise thanks to its ever-increasing and specialised product index, professional and efficient customer service, and swift delivery.

Present not only on the MTB market from XC to DH via BMX, but also on the road market, its e-shop offers a unique choice of brands and ranges.

Now supported by the Swiss cooperative Migros, Probikeshop aims to be one of the star players in the European cycle game.

Summary

Probikeshop uses a database of organically acquired contacts that are engaged with the brand and make purchases through its online store - either directly through the website or off the back of email campaigns.

Revenue from their engaged customers is strong, but Probikeshop wanted to increase revenue by targeting the inactive members of their database with more relevant content and unifying the user experience across all channels.

Revamping the email creative to unify user experience

Working with Teradata, Probikeshop redesigned the creative of all their email communications to ensure branding was consistent with the look of their website. The emails included their weekly newsletter, flash sales email and welcome message following an online subscription.

To strengthen their unified presence across all channels, Probikeshop implemented these new templates for their European campaigns in Spain, Portugal, Italy and the UK.

Segmenting the database to enhance engagement

Using Digital Messaging Center, Teradata's email broadcast system; Probikeshop was able to segment its database by active and inactive users so they could send more tailored content to the relevant segments.

Increased engagement leads to increased open rates and revenue

Working with Teradata and in particular Teradata's Campaign Management team, who manage Probikeshop's email marketing campaigns through Digital Messaging Center, Probikeshop has achieved a consistent user experience across all channels and been able to segment its audience to ensure relevant content is sent to its customers.

Implementing this new email strategy has helped Probikeshop to increase their email open rates from 25% to more than 40%, and multiplied their revenue per campaign by 1.5.
