Teradata Certification Benefits

- Career enablement
- Professional respect
- Validation of technical Teradata knowledge and expertise
- Social networking certification opportunities
- Greater customer confidence in your abilities
- Greater professional credibility
- Ability to test in a testing center remotely!

“Remote proctoring was a very easy process. I enjoyed the experience. It avoids travel times. Keep it up!”

“70% agree that they have experienced greater demand for their skills since becoming certified.”

- Certification Magazine, January 2018

“[Teradata Certification] is one of the most highly recognized certifications in the data warehousing Industry. It has a positive impact on improving overall performance of a big data warehousing team.”

- Bank of America

Key Vantage Track Features

- All exams are available through remote proctoring and at test centers.
- Bypass options are available for all Teradata 14 certified individuals. (see chart below)
- Recommended Teradata web-based training is free for the Associate Exam.
- Provisional exam results are issued at the test center.
- Digital badges are awarded to all certification holders to use and share on social networking sites to communicate the achievement.
- All certifications have expiration dates.
- Candidates maintain their certification by either passing the same exam OR an advanced certification exam for the same job role prior to the expiration date. Earning an advanced certification extends the expiration date of all other Teradata Certifications associated with that job role.

If you have the following Teradata 14 Certification...	...the following Vantage Exam(s) are bypassed.
Professional	Associate
Technical Specialist, Solutions Developer, or Enterprise Architect	Associate and Developer
Database Administrator or Master	Associate, Administrator, and Developer

Be Wary of Imitations
